

23 VIDEO

With 23 Video your organization can have its own videosite in minutes. Just like a normal website, your videosite has its own design and your own domain name. Let it be a part of your website, or intranet - or run as a separate site or activity. See what others are using videosites for at www.23video.com

YOUR OWN VIDEOSITE

With 23 Video your organization's videosite can be designed down to the last detail. It's easy to create a unique experience around your videos, varying from an integrated video section in your website to a separate videosite.

- × Your own design and domain
- × Your own video player
- × Your own relationship to your users

DESIGN

You have full freedom to implement your organization's visual identity, using the drag and drop design tool or redesigning our open-sourced video player.

- × Design with standard web technologies such as HTML, CSS and JavaScript.
